MAKING AN INVESTIGATION

Claimed Alleged Mexican Lynched
Was Born in New Mexico—
United States May Ask Redress.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Mexico City, Nov. 12.—While conditions are reported as normal throughout the country today it is conceded in government circles that the worst may come tomorrow when the Sunday holiday begins. The workmen with no right to take their attention. Troops are still on guard and the government officials are in close touch with the situation in all parts of the republic. It is hoped to prevent any further rioting and destruction of American property if armed force is necessary.

The order stopping the Sunday bull fight is not being received with joy by the common people who plan for weeks ahead for this Sunday diversion and it being prohibited by the authorities may cause gatherings which possibly may lead to outbreaks.

From several cities reports come in of mob attacks upon American property but governors of provinces have been warned to keep close watch upon their districts to prevent disorders. If possible and protect all Americans.

From Guadalajara comes the word that last night Carlos H. Carothers, the American manager of a realty company having large holdings in Mexico, fired into a crowd that was stoning his home and killed José Loza a fourteen-year-old boy and wounded Prudente Chavez.

The mob was distinctly anti-American and Chavez, a policeman, is reported to have been trying to protect the American's property when wounded. Carothers was immediately arrested and locked in jail for safety and the mob dispersed without any other serious trouble.

It is known that the Mexican government is in close touch with the Mexican minister at Washington and that he keeps the state department informed of the exact situation. It is reported here that the Mexican government anxiously awaits the report of the investigation of the alleged lynching of a Mexican at Rock Springs, Texas.

Unofficial Report.
Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—Through unofficial sources the report has reached the state department that Rodriguez, the alleged Mexican burned at the stake at Rock Springs, Texas, by the mob, was born in New Mexico. If this should prove to be the case Mexico will be obliged to withdraw its protest and demand for reparation. It would leave the United States the aggravated party in the rioting and the anti-American demonstration, if this should prove to be the case in Mexico.

All Quiet.
El Paso, Texas, Nov. 12.—Reports today from all parts of Mexico indicate normal conditions have been restored and that no further rioting is expected as a result of the lynching of a Mexican in Texas.

Thomas had apparently overturned the stove which was used to keep the frost from the potatoes. The body was identified by a letter.

MANY CHANGES WILL BE FOUND IN HOUSEDemocratic Control of Congress Means Places to Be Filled by the Victors.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—Jobs for hundreds of democrats will be provided as a result of the change in the control of the house of representatives. Republicans have held a majority in the house for the past fifteen years and in that time every place on the payroll has been filled by a member of that party. The republicans have been liberal employers, and a regiment of clerks and laborers has been organized to assist in running the legislative machinery. All these places will be turned over to members of Tuesday's victorious army.

Of course, there will be a complete change in the list of committee chairmen, a proceeding that will be attended with considerable pain for some of the veteran republicans. The chairman of the committee has the exclusive use of committee rooms and a number of leading republican statesmen have lived for years in the splendor of gorgeous suites. Their occupancy has been so long continued that the use of such rooms by certain of the old members has grown to be considered a personal right. On moving day these favored sons of fortune will have to pack their trunks and remove from their luxurious surroundings in the capitol to the house office buildings, where the ordinary members are each assigned a single room.

In the appointment of committees, the new speaker so far as possible will give the chairmanships to the oldest member in point of service on each committee. The new ways and means committee, which will have to deal with tariff revision, will undoubtedly be led by Underwood of Alabama. Fitzgerald of New York is the ranking democrat on the appropriations committee and may be given the chairmanship despite the fact that he is unpopular with some southern members. Sparkman of Florida or Randall of Louisiana, probably the latter, will be chairman of the committee on rivers and harbors. Clayton of Alabama will lead the committee on judiciary and in all probability Adamson of Georgia will be at the head of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce. Padgett of Tennessee is the ranking member on the naval committee. Baker of New York ranks first in the military committee but the chairmanship may go to Hay of Virginia.

SOCIALIST MAY WIN
THE NEXT ELECTIONMinneapolis Shows Remarkable
Growth of Social Democracy
This Year.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 12.—Both democrats and republicans admit that Minneapolis probably will have a socialist mayor two years hence. Thomas Van Lear, socialist candidate for mayor at Tuesday's election, polled 11,752 votes, the republican candidate polled 12,754, and Haynes, democrat, 12,778, the latter being elected by 24 votes.

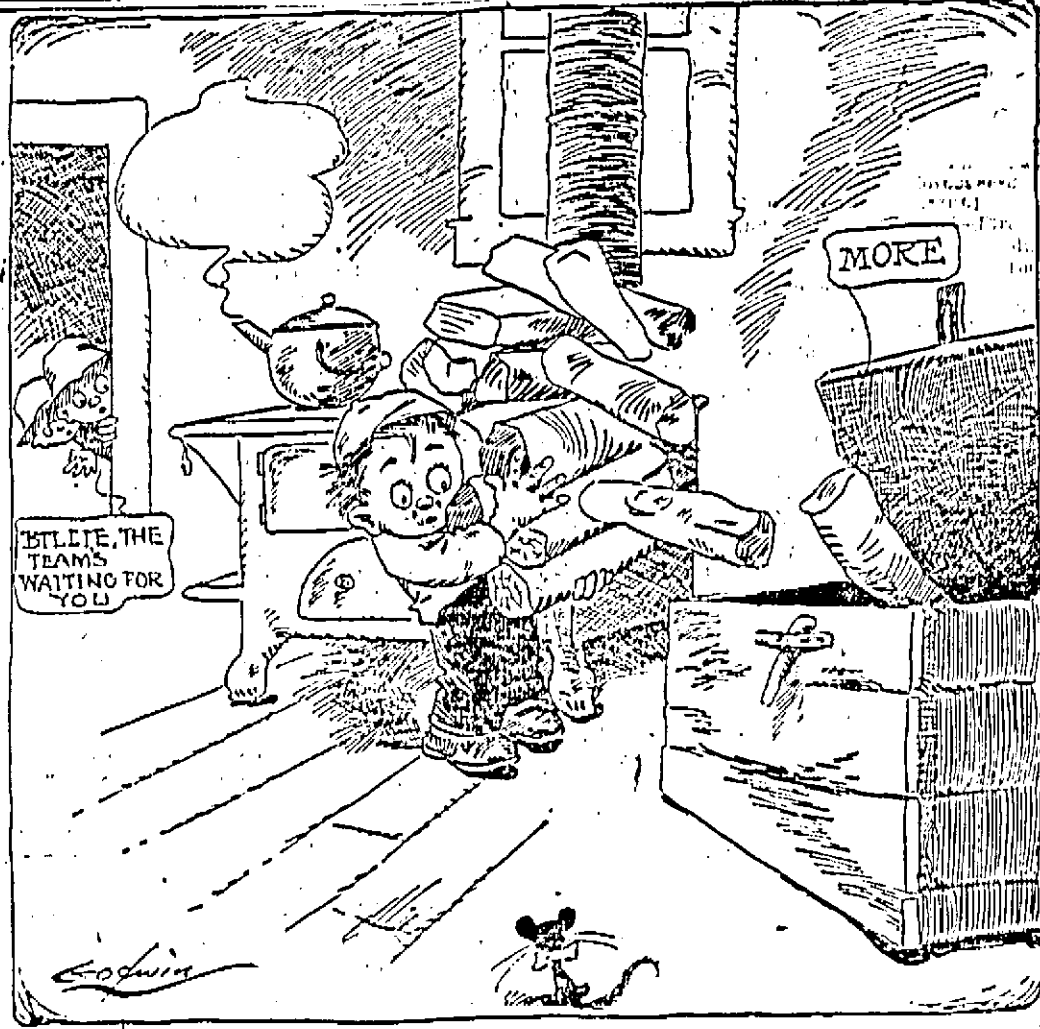

The terrible run made by Van Lear has been the sole topic of conversation in Minneapolis since the returns were announced and the newspapers have run big portraits of the socialist candidate and his family. Van Lear is a machinist and was supported by the labor element. His vote is all the more remarkable from the fact that when he ran for mayor two years ago he polled less than 1,000 votes.

1,740 EQUINES AT
BIG HORSE SHOWBig Madison Square Garden Exhibition
Opened Today with Record-Breaking Entry List.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
New York, Nov. 12.—With a record-breaking entry of 1,740, which is at most 250 in excess of last year's figure, the twenty-sixth annual exhibition of the National Horse Show Association was opened in Madison Square Garden today. The directors chose Saturday as the opening day this year instead of following the time-honored precedent of having the opening on Monday, and consequently the show will run seven days instead of six days, as heretofore.

Another unusual feature of the opening day, this year, was the presence of thousands of orphans, crippled children, and other little wards of Greater New York as guests for the first time in the show's history. The children filled one entire section of the big garden this afternoon and manifested their appreciation of the show by applauding every feature. The ponies, however, elicited the greatest measure of their enthusiasm.

The classes well represented in this year's show include trotters, thoroughbreds, hackneys, morgans, hunters, saddle horses of various types, milch ponies, polo ponies, army officers' chargers, mounted police, carriage pairs and singles, four-in-hands, tandem, road coaches, Shetland and other ponies.

There are the usual jumping classes with additional international contests at water jumping and stone wall jumping between picked teams from cavalry officers from Canada, England, France, Holland, Germany and the United States.

LA FOLLETTE IS NOT TO TAKE LONG REST

Senior Senator From Wisconsin Declines to Go to Europe for Vacation.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Nov. 11.—Senator R. M. La Follette is being importuned by some of his friends to go to Europe and to cut out the next session of congress. This advice was not inspired by any sudden turn for the worse in the senator's condition, but comes from the need of a good rest. The senator will not go to Europe. He has answered them that he is suddenly but firmly that his duty as senator before, perhaps, in his seat in Washington during the busy days of congress soon to come. In reply he has been warned that he must not work hard if he resumes his legislative work at once and that a relaxation from the strenuous pace he set in the last session is imperative. For who know Senator La Follette well believe that he is capable of such restraint, and it is highly probable that he will be back in the harness fighting with all the old-time ardor.

Age of Woman.

If any one had written a seven ages of woman's speech, surely most of the parts would have been played by Margaret Chandler Aldrich, who has been a prominent figure in municipal betterment movements and national causes for a good many years. Mrs. Aldrich has turned poet and is to issue shortly a volume of poems called "Sonnets for Choice." There are exactly fifty of these verse forms in the promised work and their subjects range from the varying aspects of nature in this part of the world at the different seasons to sonnets addressed to such men as Shelly, Agassiz and Pasteur, while the emotions also come within their scope.

UNVEIL MEMORIAL TO GENERAL SHIELDS

Four States Join in Dedication of Monument Erected by Federal Government at Carrollton, Mo.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Carrollton, Mo., Nov. 12.—Four states joined in paying tribute to the memory of Gen. James Shields, when the monument erected by the Federal government to mark the grave of the noted soldier and statesman in St. Mary's cemetery was unveiled with impressive ceremonies.

The states represented by their governors, or by distinguished citizens appointed to represent them, were, Illinois, Minnesota, Missouri and Oregon. In the course of his long and varied career Gen. Shields represented in the United States Senate at different times the states of Illinois, Minnesota and Missouri. Oregon's interest in the famous soldier arises from the fact that he served as governor of Oregon territory.

The unveiling was made the occasion of an imposing ceremony. A parade of United States troops and soldiers of the Missouri National Guard preceded the unveiling exercises.

An immense crowd witnessed the unveiling of the memorial. Governor Hadley, Congressman Rucker and other speakers of national prominence eulogized the life and achievements of Gen. Shields, both as a soldier in the Florida, Mexican and Civil Wars and as one of the foremost members of the senate of the United States.

Special interest was given the occasion by the presence of the widow of Gen. Shields and her son, Dr. Daniel Shields of New York City.

Gen. James Shields, whose memory was so signally honored today, was one of the most romantic characters in American history. Born in Ireland just one hundred years ago, he emigrated to the United States in early youth and located in Illinois, where he studied law and was admitted to the bar. He was elected state auditor in 1839 and elected state auditor in 1839. Subsequently he served on the state supreme bench and as commissioner of the general land office.

When the war with Mexico began he was appointed a brigadier general and was assigned to the command of the Illinois regiments. He served with distinction in that war. At Cerro Gordo he led the brave of major general, and was shot through the lungs. After his recovery he took part in the operations in the valley of Mexico, commanding a brigade composed of marines and New York and South Carolina volunteers.

Gen. Shields was mustered out of service in 1848 and the same year received the appointment of governor of Oregon Territory. This office he resigned on being elected United States Senator from Illinois. Afterwards he removed to Minnesota and was elected United States Senator from that state. California lured him, and he went to the coast at the end of his second term as senator. He was in the far west when the rumor of civil war began to reach him. He hurried to Washington and offered his services to his country. He was appointed a brigadier general and assigned to the command of the Army of West Virginia. He was in a number of the bloodiest battles and is credited with being the only man who ever repulsed Stonewall Jackson.

At the close of his military career Gen. Shields took up his home in Missouri. In 1879 he was chosen to fill out the unexpired term of United States Senator L. V. Boggs. He took his seat in the senate for the third and last time in what proved to be the last year of his life. While engaged on a lecture trip he was taken ill and died at Ottumwa, Iowa, June 1, 1879. His remains were brought back to Carrollton and buried in the cemetery not far from the old Shield homestead here.

The memorial unveiled today was erected with an appropriation made by the Federal government. The monument was designed by Jerome Connor of Washington. It is of white marble, nine feet high and surmounted by a bronze bust of the old warrior and statesman. A copy of the bust has been presented by the sculptor to this county and has been placed in the court house. On the four sides of the marble base of the monument appear the coats of arms of Illinois, Minnesota, Missouri and Oregon, the four states which shared his services as a public servant.

Clock 300 Years Old Keeping Time.
Three hundred years old and still running, keeping as perfect time as the twentieth century clock regulated every thirty minutes from Washington, is the record of a grandfather's clock which is owned by A. L. Simpson of this city. The old timepiece has been in the Simpson family for the last five generations, each owner passing it down with the words always to keep the old antique.

For many years it has run; but a few days ago one of the weight cords broke, which caused slight repairs to be made, the first in many years.—Saginaw correspondent Detroit Free Press.

FARE AT HARVARD IN 1850

Breakfast at Daybreak and Boiled Dinner Two Days in the Week.

The students lodged in the dormitories and ate at the commons. The food then partaken of with thankful news would now be looked upon as prison fare. At breakfast, which was served at sunrise in summer and at daybreak in winter, there were doled out to each student a small can of unsalted coffee, a slice of biscuit, and a slice of butter, weighing generally about an ounce. Dinner was the staple meal, and at this each student was regaled with a pound of meat. Two days in the week, Monday and Thursday, the meat was boiled; and, in colloquial language, these were known as boiling days. On the remaining days the meat was roasted, and to them the nickname of roasting days was fastened. With the flesh went always two potatoes. When boiling days came round, pudding and cabbage, wild peas and dandelions were added.

The only delicacy to which no stint was applied was the cider, a beverage then fast supplanting the small beer of the colonial days. This was brought to the mess in powder cans which were passed from mouth to mouth, and when emptied, were again replenished. For supper there was a bowl of milk and a slice of bread. The hungry Oliver who wished for more was forced to order, or, as the phrase went, "seize it," from the kitchen.—McMaster's History of the People of the United States.

Keep Busy.
"I have known a great many men who worked hard for a competence and they loafed themselves to death. The man who does not keep busy starts down hill pretty soon and the one who gives up living interests under the notion that he is going to have a good time will soon be reading patent medicine almanacs and imagining he has all those things and then some. There is a difference between wholesome idleness and absolute loafing. If you will stop to study the matter out."

$357,000,000 SAVED IN A YEAR BY AMERICANS

Nine Million Small Depositors Add
$24.77 Each to Savings
Deposits.

Washington, Nov. 12.—Nine million Americans in moderate circumstances—the kind of people who keep savings bank accounts—saved an average of $24.77 each during the current year in spite of the high tariff and the increased cost of living.

These facts became public through the publication of a report by Comptroller of the Currency, Murray. They show beyond cavil that the country is prospering, and that a share of that prosperity—whether a fair share or not—is going to places where it will do the most good.

Deposits in the 1,750 savings banks during the year increased to more than $4,000,000,000. The average depositor's account was $145.22, just $24.77 above the average of the year before. There are 290,000 more savings bank depositors than there were a year ago, and the total of the deposits has swelled $357,000,000 during the year. These statistics, compiled in the treasury for the second time in the history of American banking, include also the reports from 7,145 national banks and 15,948 state and private banks.

State banking superintendents co-operated with the national bank system to make what is practically a uniform report of banking conditions in the country.

Banking capital employed in the United States increased $80,000,000 during the year. Individual deposits in all the banks increased more than $1,240,000,000, and the aggregate assets increased $1,355,000,000.

The banks, however, are holding about $31,000,000 less in cash than they did in 1909.

MOB BURNS AMERICAN CHURCH.

Chinese Rioters Are Prevented from

Slaying Leichow Missionaries.

Hongkong, Nov. 12.—Mail advices from Leichow, in Kwang-Su province, report that rioters have burned and demolished numerous buildings there, including the American Presbyterian church, hospital and college, and proceeded to Tsoi Yuen Po, intending to slay the missionaries. The gentry, however, assisted the latter to escape in boats to Canton.

Three battalions have left Canton to quell the disturbances. The British gunboat Sandpiper is also proceeding thither. The mob was enraged at officials numbering their houses, believing this was an excuse to impose taxation.

The Leichow American Presbyterian mission comprises Drs. Macleod and Hoss, Mrs. Ross, Mr. Kunkle, Mr. and Mrs. Edwards and Miss Elda Patterson.

DAWSON WINS SAVANNAH PRIZE.

Covers 276.8 Miles "at Average" of 62.28 Miles an Hour.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 12.—Joe Dawson in a Marmon won the Savannah challenge trophy in the automobile speed carnival here. His time for the 276.8 miles was 4:23:35.38. Washington Roadster's Mercer was a close second.

Dawson's average time was 62.28 miles an hour.
"Billy" Knipper, driving a Lancia car, won the Tiedeman trophy. His time for the 11 laps, 190.3 miles, was 3:16:22.67. In addition to the trophy, Knipper took down one prize of $1,000 and accessories that made his work well worth while.

Second in the Tiedeman race was Witt in an 18-31-P. His time was 5:20:34.22.

N. Y. Horse Show Opens.

New York, Nov. 12.—A fanfare of trumpets opened the twenty-sixth national horse show at Madison Square garden today. Some 1,700 entries will compete for $40,000 in cash prizes and several thousand dollars' worth of trophies.

Second Posses After Outlaw.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 12.—John Noble, who has intruded himself in the mountains to resist arrest for murder, will have a still larger army to face, a second posse of fearless men having started to get him, dead or alive.

Elected to Office; Ends Life.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 12.—John T. Wayman, Jr., who was elected to the city council here on the Democratic ticket, committed suicide by hanging. Financial troubles, it is thought, caused Mr. Wayman to end his life.

RECOGNIZE NEW GOVERNMENT.

Germany Resumes Negotiations With Portuguese Republic.

Lisbon, Portugal, Nov. 12.—Germany followed the example of Great Britain, France, Spain and Italy, and resumed negotiations with the Portuguese government. The action of these governments is regarded as a virtual recognition of the republic of Portugal.

In view of the attitude of other countries there is surprise in official circles that the United States still holds aloof from the provisional government. American Minister Gage refers all inquiries on the subject to Washington.

15 GLASS TRUST MEN ARE FINED $500 EACH

Officials of Imperial Company Admit Violation of Sherman Law—
Combine to Disavow.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 12.—Fifteen officers and directors of the Imperial Window Glass company pleaded guilty to a conspiracy to violate the Sherman anti-trust act and each was fined $500. At the same time a fine of $2,500 was imposed upon the corporation itself with costs.

Among those fined are Myron L. Case, president; J. G. Bayre, secretary, and M. J. Healy, vice-president. Dissolution of the combine, by which the government alleged a monopoly in handblown window glass had been established and an increase in price of from 60 to 70 per cent. been effected, will follow immediately, it was announced by attorneys for the company.

The Imperial Window Glass company was indicted by the federal grand jury here last April, with individual indictments against the officers and directors, mainly through the activity of United States Attorney John H. Jordan and Edwin P. Groves, special assistant to the attorney general's office at Washington.

The company was organized in West Virginia less than two years ago and controlled the product of glass factories in more than a score of states.

LOWER PRICES, SAYS ARMOUR.

Head of Kansas City House Asserts
High Cost Has Passed.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 12.—Charles W. Armour, head of the Armour interests here, said he believed food prices had reached their climax and are now on the down grade.

"General food prices are working toward a lower basis," he said. "The cereals are getting down. People are going to take advantage of lower prices, and that will have a tendency to relieve the stringency in meat prices, especially pork."

Just when the lower prices are to come Mr. Armour said he did not know.

Head of Memphis Bank Ends Life.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 12.—D. F. M. Schuss, president of the Continental Savings bank, committed suicide by shooting.

EDGERTON.

Edgerton, Nov. 12.—At the Congregational church Sunday evening instead of regular service a sacred concert will be given. Besides the choir, prominent outsiders of talent will take part, including the high school orchestra, the ladies' quartet, consisting of the Misses Coon, Sewell, Cullen and Hargraves, Mr. and Mrs. F. Lyon, Miss Edna Wilson and Mrs. Roy F. Wright. C. A. Pratt has left for Kansas City, Mo., for a visit of several weeks with relatives.

The Lutheran Men's club of the Norwegian church met last night at the church.

"The Power of Truth" will be the subject of the sermon Sunday morning at the M. E. church.

Hard to Believe.

A station master requested an increase of salary and threatened to leave if he didn't get it.

The superintendent replied to his request by relating a story.

"When I was a young man," said he, "I once did as you are doing—I told the superintendent of the line I was then working on what you have told me. He refused my demand, and I left, and—would you believe it?—that railway line is running yet."—London Tit-Bits.

Not Encouraging.

A pastor in a rural church not far from Milwaukee announced the wedding in his church during the following week of two of his parishioners.

He followed the announcement with the title of the hymn which was then to be sung. It was "Mistaken Souls That Dream of Heaven"—Milwaukee Free Press.

A Display Typical of Our Dining Room Furniture

The dining room should be the best appointed room in the house. Everything that tends to brighten the mind aids both appetite and digestion. And in the dining room family and friends get together in a more congenial spirit than anywhere else. Little wonder that all good housekeepers take such a pride in having the dining room furniture, as well as the chinaware and linen, of the most cheerful and appetizing character.

The suite shown in our window is typical of the balance of our dining room furniture—honest furniture. This suite is polished quarter sawed oak, Early English. The same design worked out in each piece. Of ample proportions yet not of the "hatchet and glue pot" order, but a simple, classic, refined design that will appeal to your taste of the dignified.

You should see this suite to properly appreciate its beauty and general excellence.

"If It Comes From Ashcraft's
It Must Be Good."

"Worth" is defined as that quality or combination of qualities that makes one deserving of esteem, trust and honor. Now, "worth" in furniture is no more to be juggled with than a man's character. Some dealers have an eye more to the profit account than to the quality of their goods. Not so here. Ashcraft's furniture has a standard. It is in every sense of the word worthy. Covering our three broad floors we have only good furniture—furniture made in the good old fashioned way and our prices are no higher than are asked for inferior goods, and everything is brand new.

When you want thoroughly dependable furniture, fashioned on symmetrical lines and the very latest models at a fair price, come to Ashcraft's.

Ventilation an Art in Chicago.
The fine art of ventilation in Chicago is still making long strides. Several large firms which occupy whole floors now have the big windows swung from left to right on the principle of passenger car ventilators. The position of the windows can thus be regulated according to the passage of the wind, and cleaning the panes is made easy. But the ordinary window washer can still do a little wonders with the old-fashioned vertical sash in any office building.

TAX FERRETS ARE ALREADY ON TRAIL

Hold Acceptance of Their Offer by Council is Sufficient—Do Not Wait for Mayor's Signature to Contract.

Workman & Higgs, tax experts, have, through a written communication to the mayor, city clerk, and common council, served notice that under a contract with the city of Janesville, entered into Oct. 31, 1910, they have commenced gathering legal evidence of locally owned, personal property beyond the borders of Wisconsin which has been omitted from the assessment rolls and that they will commence reporting said evidence to the assessing office or officers by Dec. 1, 1910. They also announce that, if some of the property on which delinquent taxes are due will be reported at the next meeting of the council, if the tax experts are willing to take their chances on the validity of a contract which neither the mayor nor the city clerk have signed, nothing can prevent them from reporting their evidence to headquarters and if it is conclusive the proper officers will be in duty bound to take steps to collect the money. Any taxpayer and probably any individual could do the same thing.

From the standpoint of Workman & Higgs, the signing of the contract which the council made with them by a vote of 6 to 2 would be merely a ministerial act and would not constitute a contract on the part of the city. While the mayor may veto orders, ordinances, and resolutions and thus necessitate a two-thirds vote to carry them against his will and best judgment, it is held by the tax men that no such power exists in the case of agreements of this nature. If the council by its vote and irrespective of the mayor's signature to the stipulations did actually enter into a contract with the firm, there is some question, too, about its power to annul such contract by a reconsideration of its vote.

All of which may lead to interesting complications and litigation in the city fathers, after many an election, decide that they do not want the services of the tax men on a 3 1/2 per cent commission basis and at attempt to repudiate the alleged contract.

KICKERS' KOLUM.

To the Editor:—A letter received at the offices of the Industrial and Commercial Club from a prominent business man in a neighboring state, who has served several terms as alderman, shows the opinion they have in his city, relative to the Tax Ferret system.

The letter says: "This city has had ample experience in this line of work. I am conversant with the faults and insuperable objections to the Tax Ferret system."

"First, Tax Ferrets are and always have been the most adroit in finding property records whereby widows and orphans are always their prey, and they never fail to root out the only cases but the real tax dodgers, if there are any, are not caught. In theory nothing is there for a city than that a set of outsiders can come in and by going over records that are accessible to assessors, and are scrutinized by them, gather in a large amount of revenue for the city. The poor woman who is left with helpless children and orphans bereft of a father or mother upon whose life a little fraternal insurance was carried have to pay penance to these men, while the real tax dodger escapes because he has his deeds too deep for the time and skill of the ferret."

"I have come to my personal knowledge that the following occurred, in this city and its repetition in admitted instances is so well known that a Tax Ferret could not get into this country with a 'Jimmy'—A business man of many and varied interests was visited by a ferret employed by this city some years ago. On certain holdings he had dug up he proposed to tax Mr. Bushness Man. Mr. B. M. betook himself to a reputable lawyer and paid ten dollars for an opinion that coincided with the Tax Ferret's opinion, that there was liability there. Another lawyer of easy conscience afterwards arranged to meet the ferret. The property was not listed for taxation but the Tax Ferret got his and the city got left. No community with which extensive correspondence has brought reports, has failed to testify that when returns have been made they have been contributed by those least able and least entitled to pay. Tax dodgers even evade or buy themselves off, and finally everywhere and always the very best method yet discovered of driving investments from, rather than keep them in, any city is to set a gang of Tax Ferrets at work 'snapping' into affairs of men who have enough to contend against without adding these nuisances to the rest."

"Our city's experience is what every city will learn if the experiment is made and that is that the Tax Ferret is the best single KNOCK to investments in local enterprises, the only real means of robbing the widow and taking from her the means of educating her children and making them fit citizens, and finally of giving into hands of men none too scrupulous as shown by the employment followed, the opportunity of making terms with the very few caught while the real tax dodgers escape."

"Tax collection can always be near made a success by the election of competent men as assessors whose duty shall be to keep up on property changes and thus the great proportion of available tax will be secure while there will be some escape so long as man's iniquity is tested to escape the tax gatherer."

INVESTIGATING THE DEATH OF ISAACSON

District Attorney Fisher and Sheriff Scheibel Probing Affair to Bottom. That the mysterious death of Isaac Isaacson, the aged Clinton farmer on October 16 last will be probed to the bottom before the coroners jury meets on November 28 is asserted by both the district attorney and the sheriff's office. Under the present condition of affairs there is no fund available for making any investigation, money which is appropriated by the county board for such purposes can only be used after the case is on trial. However, both District Attorney Fisher and Sheriff Scheibel will personally investigate the case and have the evidence ready for the consideration of the jury when they meet. When the stomach was examined morphine was found and at close search is being made to discover where this was purchased. Sheriff Scheibel and Chief Quilman of Hollo visited the Isaacson farm this past week and talked with neighbors and friends of the deceased, securing evidence that the deceased had been afraid of being killed. Mrs. Isaacson was not at home when the officers called and they did not see her.

RAILROAD REDUCES RUNNING EXPENSES

Forces Employed in Shops of North-western Road Have Been Reduced Here and Elsewhere. A general reduction in the expenses of the motive power department, in effect, apparently over the entire system, has been inaugurated by the Northwestern road. Those most affected by the expense-cutting are the men employed in the shops, the machinists, holtermakers and laborers. At the local roundhouse at South Janesville, as the result of orders received from the Wisconsin and Northwestern Wisconsin headquarters of the road at Chicago and Fond du Lac, twelve men in all, four machinists and their helpers, one holtermaker and helper and two laborers have been laid off temporarily. The South Janesville shops are not the only ones affected, as it is reported, slightly less men were temporarily released from work at North Fond du Lac, and a correspondingly large number from the shops at Port Jervis in Chicago. The reason for this move is a matter of conjecture. It cannot be from a slackness of business, as there seems to be plenty to do for the train and switching crews and there is a constant demand for motive power for handling the freight and passenger traffic. The real cause of the reduction of the payroll may be in the refusal of the Interstate Commerce Commission to allow the proposed increase of freight rates by the western railroads.

Railroad men in this city are interested in the outcome of the conference of the officials of the brotherhood of engineers with the officials of western railroads regarding an increase of pay which the engineers demanded. The demands of the engineers were refused and it was decided by the brotherhood officials to allow the matter to rest until December 12, when, if the demands are not granted a general strike may be called. The strike, it is said, if ordered, would affect sixty-two railroads running into Chicago, as all engineers would be ordered out.

MANY PROBLEMS ARE TO BE DECIDED ON

Intimated that Election of Supervisor of Highways May Bring Out Close Vote by County Board.

When the Rock County Board of Supervisors meet on Nov. 15, next, there are many matters of importance that will come up for settlement. One of the most important is the election of a Supervisor of County Highways. Halver Skelven has held this office since it was created by the state legislature and during his term of office much road building has been completed. It is said that he will have an opponent in H. S. Jones of Clinton. Mr. Jones is much interested in road building and has personally constructed some of the best highways in the county, those of the town of Clinton and has closely studied the question. The office pays but $1200 a year out of which the supervisor must pay his own personal expenses.

EDGERTON MAN MADE VERY DECIDED HIT

Leslie's Weekly Describes Visit of "Hank" J. Rhodes of Edgerton to the Last G. A. R. Gathering. In a recent issue of Leslie's Weekly there is a story of "Hank" J. Rhodes of Edgerton and his visit to the last G. A. R. national encampment at Atlantic City. The magazine says of the Edgerton man:

"He was never made an officer, so that he could wear gold lace and a sword, but that has never worried the dear old American sailors. He is happy every minute, always ready to draw upon his vast fund of anecdotes and tell how he, 'Hank' J. Rhodes, served the navy many, many years. He was under Admiral Farragut—that alone is a claim for distinction. At the recent G. A. R. encampment, in Atlantic City, he was one of the most popular attendants. When he marched in the parade, bowing and frolicking the whole of the way, applause preceded him in a steady and turbulent flow. He is a well-read man, thoroughly conversant with the Bible. Once he held a large throng spellbound as he told the story of the time he was turned out of church because he, belonging to a secret society, took a passage of Scripture and showed where Christ instituted the first secret society; and he also, by a passage of Scripture, showed that life insurance had its inception in Old Testament history." Then he amused the crowd by telling them how he always keeps two pocketbooks. The contents of one he always divides with his wife, but the other he keeps as a bank, to hold his funds for an annual visit to the national G. A. R. encampment. The latter pocketbook is a secret never before divulged, and he sincerely hopes that nobody will tell."

VI.—Hygiene of the Skin and Its Appendages

By EUGENE L. FISK, M. D.
Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

THE skin is one of the most important organs of the body. This may seem an extraordinary statement to some who look upon the skin merely as a protective covering for muscle, bone and other underlying structures. It is a fact, however, that the skin is a vital organ and that paralysis of its functions would result in death. One of the most important functions of the skin is to regulate the body heat. This it does largely through the evaporation of water brought to the surface by the sweat glands. It has been estimated that there are about 2,000,000 of these glands in the skin of the average individual and that they daily pour out from one to three pints of water containing salts and waste products.

In very warm weather this loss is quite apparent, but in ordinary weather we are not conscious of it, and it is termed insensible perspiration. When the air contains a great deal of moisture and the weather man reports excessive humidity, the evaporation of moisture from the skin is retarded and great discomfort results. The reverse condition obtains, of course, when the air is dry.

Understanding the functions of the skin, we can readily comprehend what grave injury to other organs may result if these functions are suspended.

When the weather becomes suddenly cold the blood vessels of the skin contract, and a greater burden is thrown upon the kidneys, which at once become more active, if they are able to respond. When the skin is not in a healthy condition its heat regulating and waste excreting functions are chronically disturbed, with the result that other organs must bear the burden. This means that the bodily resistance to disease is lessened.

Structure of the Skin.
The skin is composed of two layers—the epidermis, or what is termed the "scarf skin," and the derma, or "true skin." The epidermis is composed of several layers of epithelial cells, which act as a protective coating for the derma. The derma contains the sebaceous or oil glands, the sweat glands, roots of the hair, blood vessels, fat, nerves, etc.

The cells of the epidermis are constantly dying up and are removed by bathing and the friction of the clothes.

To maintain a healthy action of the skin the daily bath is important. Millions of people seem to get along fairly well without bathing, but millions of people have died before their time in consequence of neglecting such hygienic measures as are now known to promote good health and resistance to disease.

A daily cold bath should be taken by all who can react from the shock without feeling "shivery" and chilled.

For the more delicate a daily tepid bath, with light sponging or spraying of neck and chest with cool water, will assist in maintaining a proper tone to the circulation of the skin and fortify against colds, bronchitis, pneumonia and tuberculosis.

Importance of Cleansing Scalp.

A great deal of time and money are wasted in trying to make hair grow in poor soil. It is a curious but illuminating fact that it is quite as difficult to destroy superfluous hair as it is to induce hair to grow where it is desired. These facts are readily accounted for when we consider that the papillae, upon which the growth of hair depends, are located deeply in the layers of the true skin, where neither hair tonics nor hair destroyers can reach them.

It is true of the scalp as of all other parts of the body that it is easier to prevent disease than to cure it. Prevention of dandruff, which is the usual cause of baldness, is not ordinarily a difficult matter. Sometimes this condition as well as falling of the hair is due to a debilitated nervous system, which must first be treated before local measures are of much avail. The average individual, however, can prevent dandruff and resultant baldness by keeping the scalp clean.

The scalp is prone to collect dirt, dust and germs. Dandruff is thought by some to be due to a germ, but this is all the greater reason for frequently cleansing the scalp.

Shampooing and Scalp Massage.
A mistaken idea exists that the hair is injured by frequent washing. As a rule, both scalp and hair are benefited thereby provided they are carefully dried. Neglect to dry the hair leads to decomposition at the roots and impairment of its vigor. In the summer time exposure to the sunlight will assist in time but towels should be used.

Medicated soaps are not of much value. Any pure soap will answer. Tincture of green soap is an excellent preparation. There is no danger of undue loss of oil from the hair, as the oil glands in the skin quickly replace what is washed away. In fact, by clearing away the dead cells and cleansing the orifices of the glands the oil supply may be increased. In old cases of dandruff the head should be shampooed several times a week until the scalp is restored to a healthier condition, and then twice a month will usually suffice.

The hair should be briskly brushed twice a day. This will cleanse it and promote a healthy circulation. The scalp should also be kneaded and massaged with the finger tips, slightly pinched and pulled away from the underlying skull. This is especially necessary where the hair lacks vigor and the scalp is tightly bound to the skull. It is a question whether electric massage, vibration massage, etc., have any advantages over ordinary methods. Vibration massage in particular should be used with caution.

In some cases dandruff is so excessive as to constitute an active disease, accompanied by inflammation. In such cases medical attention is necessary, and experiments should not be made. The scalp, like other portions of the body, can be kept in a healthy condition by proper attention to bathing, sleep, exercise, diet, etc., and all these things should be tried in preference to smothering one's head with high priced, highly perfumed stuff out of fancy bottles.

Anything that improves the nutrition of the scalp tends to prevent gray hair. Many theories have been advanced as to the cause of gray hair, but no cure has yet been discovered. Black hair dyes may contain lead and cause serious poisoning. Great caution should be exercised in using dyes.

Care of the Complexion.

Care of the complexion should commence in childhood. This does not mean that we should rub the baby's face with expensive toilet preparations, but that all measures which promote a healthy skin action should early become a part of training and discipline.

The skin of the face should also be thoroughly cleansed at least once a day, in order that a healthy action of its glands may be maintained. Pure soap and tepid soft water are usually sufficient for this purpose. Those who live in dusty or smoky towns will find it beneficial to use cold cream as a cleanser. The face should be gently but thoroughly rubbed with this preparation and then wiped off with a soft towel. The appearance of this towel after use will surprise those who try this method for the first time. The face should then be washed with tepid water. This is an exceedingly valuable measure for young boys and girls.

Importance of Diet.

In addition to local hygiene of the face, care of the bodily functions will have an important influence on the complexion. Constipation in young children is very apt to develop through inattention and neglect. Regular habits should be established and proper diet enforced. Greasy fried foods, pastries, hot breads, oatmeal, candy, ice cream soda, should all be avoided.

The habit of thoroughly chewing the food should also be early taught. Children are prone to bury their food, especially soft foods like cereals, potatoes and other vegetables, which should remain in the mouth long enough for partial digestion.

Treatment of Acne.

Acne is a disease characterized by the formation of pimples or blotches, chiefly on the face, but occasionally on other portions of the body. Young people suffer from two forms of this disease, the simple and the indurated. In the former ordinary pimples are present. In the latter the pimples are of large size and very hard, leaving a scar after they rupture. In older people acne takes the form of redness, indurated areas, often involving the nose, termed "acne rosacea."

In mild, simple acne daily cleansing of the face with cold cream and careful attention to diet will often be sufficient to effect a cure. The more rebellious cases require the most skillful medical treatment, directed against the underlying constitutional causes. Of late excellent results have been reported from the use of the Roentgen rays. Such treatment requires much judgment and experience and should be administered only by an expert.

Acne rosacea, although so unsightly and formidable looking, is often readily cured by careful diet, avoidance of stimulants, regulation of the bowels and certain local applications. Tight lacing is not infrequently a cause of this disease. People suffering from this trouble should seek relief from a physician, with every confidence of cure, provided instructions are rigidly followed.

Forced Virtue.
The trouble with scaring a man into being good is that it takes so much time to keep the thrills going.

It is estimated that three thousand delegates will be present from every country in the world, speaking 45 languages and dialects.

These men come in answer to the call sent out by the National Reform association.

The National Reform association, which gathered the movement, is composed of America's most prominent men on the bench and bar, in the pulpit and lecture chair. Sylvester F. Beovell of Worcester University is president of the association.

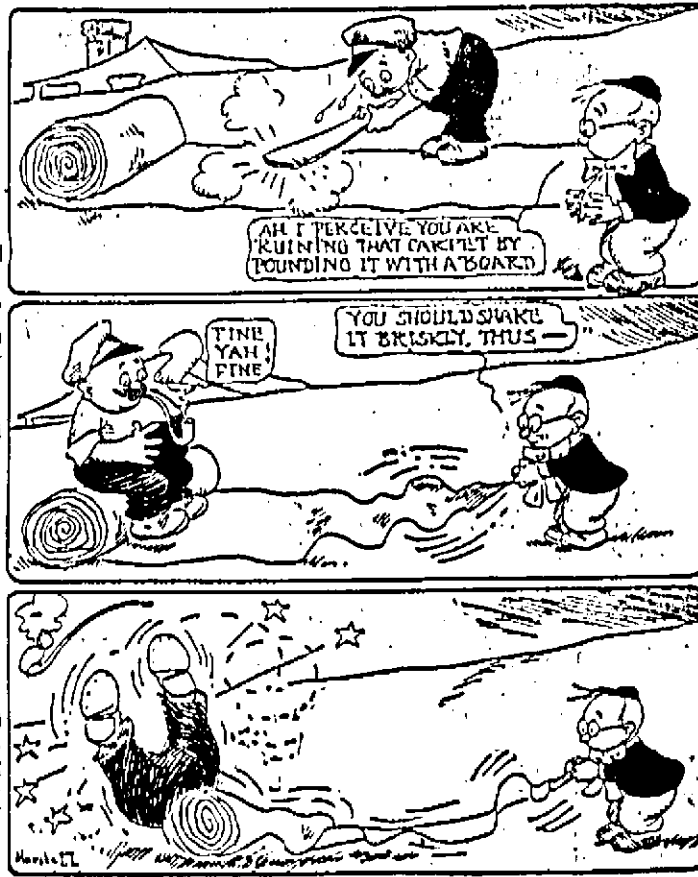

The membership, which includes such men as Walter E. Barker, Superintendent of Public Education for Rhode Island; Charles W. Lanyon, president of Cincinnati University; Darwin H. James, vice moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly of 1908; Prof. Alexander T. Ormond of Princeton University; Prof. Martin G. Brumbaugh, superintendent of public schools of Philadelphia; Peter S. Grosscup, judge of the United States court of appeals, Chicago; H.

Rev. Alexander Mackey-Smith, bishop conductor of the diocese of Pennsylvania; Rev. Henry Mitchell McCracken, chancellor of New York university.

At the conference there will be presented exact and authoritative statements of the exact actual character of every separate government in the world, and of its relation to Christianity. The work of the conference will not be confined to the discussion of reform. It will try to do something permanent in the betterment of conditions, social and political. To this end mayors and councilmen of 1000 cities in the United States have been invited, to make reports on the problems which confront the citizens of their respective municipalities.

The conference will be opened by Dr. Sylvester F. Beovell president of the National Reform association, who will respond to Governor Stuart's address of welcome.

Although the list of speakers has not yet been completed, the following names have been announced: Governor Hanley of Indiana, former Governor Glenn of North Carolina and Rev. D. J. S. Martin of Pittsburgh, who is prominent in the affairs of the National Reform association.

KINGDON COULD'S AUTO KILLS.

Has Collision With Bicyclist Who Dies of Injuries Received.

Lakewood, N. J., Nov. 12.—George J. Gould's automobile ran down and injured a young boy, Orville Johnson, a clerk, so that he died. Kingdon Gould was in the town on his way to the depot, and was traveling at a fast rate of speed. Young Johnson, on his bicycle, was going in the opposite direction on the same side of the road.

Before the chauffeur could stop the machine Johnson was struck and knocked off his bicycle and run over by the automobile.

George Gould, who was following in another automobile just behind, came to the boy's assistance and had him taken to the hospital.

Felix de Noux, Gould's chauffeur, was placed under arrest.

Home Course In Health Culture

This is a new special feature which the Gazette has secured for its readers.

There are eighteen articles in the series all from the pen of Dr. Eugene Fisk, a noted physician of New York. They will prove interesting, instructive and helpful.

Dr. Fisk, in his series, explains about fresh air and its low cost and high value and emphasizes the need of pure water and pure food in the home.

He jars you a bit by explaining that it's a bad scheme to have cats and dogs in the home; for they carry germs; and he proves his case.

The fryng pan has no business in good society, Dr. Fisk declares.

Do such things jar you? Well perhaps you have a jar coming. Anyhow you will find it worth while to read these articles, the first of which appears in The Gazette on another page today under the title "Fresh Air in the Home—Its Low Cost and High Value."

Be sure to read it.

Proper Care of Auto Tires During the Winter

Automobile tires will deteriorate more or less when not in use in spite of all that can be done to preserve them, although extremes of either heat or cold are the most harmful to rubber. A temperature between 35 degrees and 60 degrees will be found to be the most satisfactory although rubber will oxidize when not in use.

If tires are in first class shape and but slightly worn they may be left on the wheels over winter if the wheels are jacked up so that there is no weight on them and the air is let down to about 15 lbs. pressure, or better still, call us up by phone and we will take them off for you and wrap them up so as to exclude all possible air and store them for you during the winter in a cool (but not cold) dark room, putting them on for you in the spring when you want them. Our charge for this is $2.00 per set.

If you have worn your tires all year or if they are getting thin or will need repairing soon you will find it profitable to let us have them as soon as you lay your car up and we will remove the rubber at once down to the fabric and thus remove all chance of deterioration. The bare duck will not decay. We will store tires to be repaired free of charge during the winter. All repairs guaranteed to 2000 miles. It will pay you to see us as we can save you money. If you cannot call, phone us and we will be glad to call on you and look your tires over. Our advice can be relied upon as we believe a square deal pays.

LIFE-PRISONER CUTS WARDEN

"MYSTERY" CONVICT ATTACKS TWO PRISON OFFICIALS WITH KNIFE.

SEEKS TO GAIN HIS LIBERTY

Deputy is Probably Fatally Wounded
—Son of Senator Gallinger One of Victims, Not Seriously Hurt—Prisoner's Name Unknown.

Concord, N. H., Nov. 12.—"John Doe," a life prisoner in the state prison here, after wrestling a knife from a "trustee" made a murderous attack on two prison officials probably fatally wounding one and slightly injuring the other.

The victims are Deputy Warden Frank H. Bailey, whose condition is critical, and Dr. Ralph T. Gallinger, prison physician and son of Senator Jacob H. Gallinger.

After wounding the two men Doe attempted to fight his way to liberty, but was overpowered by guards and trustees and locked in a solitary cell.

Attacks Prison Officials.

Doe, who has been in the prison since 1906, was at work cleaning a corridor in the prison, in which one of the trustees was making some carpentry repairs. Watching his opportunity, Doe sprang upon the other convict and seized a knife he was using. Then he made a dash toward the two officials who were engaged in receiving the daily sick report. He attacked the two men from behind and before they were aware of their danger, Bailey was nearest and he was stabbed in the abdomen. Doctor Gallinger tried to seize the convict and was wounded in the arm.

In a moment that part of the prison was in an uproar and half a dozen guards and several prisoners throw themselves upon Doe. He fought like a wild man, but was overpowered and disarmed. Doctor Gallinger was the first to go to the aid of Warden Bailey, who was hurried to the prison hospital.

Is Mystery of the Prison.

Doe is known as the "mystery" of the penitentiary. Although he has been here for five years his real name is unknown, and the authorities never have been able to get a clue to where he came from or who his people are. Doe killed a man in 1905 and received a life sentence for the crime.

The prison officials here always have believed that Doe is the black sheep of some well-to-do family, but no visitor has ever called at the prison to see him.

FIVE SHOT IN CICERO HOLD-UP.

Two Fatally Wounded in Fight Between Police and Robbers.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Five persons were shot, two of them probably fatally, in an attempt to rob the saloon of Louis Belmont, in the town of Cicero, near here. Three bandits made the attempt at robbery, and when the saloonkeeper fired on them a revolver battle began. One of the burglars was shot through the head and is not expected to recover.

Policeman John Kane, who ran to the aid of Belmont, was shot through the body five times and will probably die. Miss Millie Collier, a waiter, was hit by a bullet while in an adjoining room. Her nose was shot off. Belmont was hit by two bullets, but his wounds are not fatal.

Fred Cobb, a customer in the saloon, was shot through the breast and hand.

STORM FATAL TO MANY.

Thirty Fishermen Known to Have Drowned Near Calais.

Calais, France, Nov. 12.—The severe storm which raged in the English channel and the Straits of Dover caught unawares the Calais fishing fleet. Several of the vessels were sunk and thirty fishermen were drowned.

Paris, Nov. 12.—All parts of France were suffering from the effects of the floods. The quays in the southeastern part of Paris were being inundated and workmen were making a desperate effort to save the merchandise that had accumulated there.

Berlin, Nov. 12.—A heavy snow storm ushered in winter throughout northern Germany. Telephone and telegraph wires are all down to the north and also those communicating with Bremen.

Revenue of Roads is Lower.

Washington, Nov. 12.—The total net revenue of the steam railroads in the United States last July was $75,477,690, or $308.61 per mile of line, against $78,139,043, or $335.06 per mile of line in July, 1909, according to the revenue and expenses report issued by the interstate commerce commission.

Honduran Rebels Active.

San Juan del Sur, Nicaragua, Nov. 12.—Reports received here from Tegucigalpa deny the optimistic statement of the Honduran government that the revolutionary movement began recently by General Valladares at Amapala is a failure.

Burglar Shoots Rich Man.

New York, Nov. 12.—A masked burglar shot Henry Rosen, shoe manufacturer, early when the householder interrupted his looting. Rosen fell with a bullet in his chest, mortally wounded.

SHIELDS MONUMENT IS UNVEILED AT CARROLLTON

Memory of the Famous Soldier and Statesman is Honored at Last by the Federal Government.

Carrollton, Mo., Nov. 12.—A monument to the memory of Gen. James Shields, the gift of the United States government, was unveiled here today in St. Mary's cemetery.

The ceremonies were impressive and were participated in by many notable persons who came here to pay tribute to the memory of one of the most romantic characters in American history. Among those present were federal and state officials and representatives from Minnesota, Illinois, Oregon and South Carolina, many Civil war veterans and a large part of the national guard of Missouri.

The monument, which was designed by Jerome Connor of Washington, is of white marble, nine feet high, and is surmounted by a bronze bust of the soldier and statesman. General Shields was the first United States senator from Minnesota, and in recognition of that fact one of the sides of the base of the monument bears the coat of arms of that state. On the other sides are the arms of Oregon, of which state he was territorial governor, and of Illinois and Missouri, which states he represented in the United States senate.

James Shields was born in 1810 at Dungannon, Ireland, and came to America in 1826. He served with distinction in an Indian campaign in Florida and in the Mexican and Civil wars and held many public offices. He died at Ottumwa, Iowa, June 1, 1879.

NO PEACE IN EXPRESS STRIKE.

Jersey City Employees Nullify Agreement Made by New York Men.

New York, Nov. 12.—The striking express drivers and helpers of Jersey City nullified the agreement reached between the New York strikers and the five transcontinental companies. That agreement was conditioned upon the consent of the Jersey men to return to work, and they have refused.

The situation now reverts to precisely the position it occupied before Mayor Gaylor took a hand in the negotiations—with this exception, that the mayor is angry and resolved to temporize no longer.

Some of the New York drivers and helpers who believed the Jersey men would also ratify the agreement were on their wagons, but if the International Brotherhood of Teamsters makes good its word, they will all be called out again. The chauffeurs are fighting their own battle, and it promises to be a bitter one. Five hundred cab drivers went out to aid them.

TWO INJURED IN AUTO CRASH.

Machine Dashes Against Bridge Near Sycamore, Ill.

Sycamore, Ill., Nov. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. Pollage of Ludenwood were dangerously injured in an automobile accident two miles from here.

Mr. Pollage, who was driving, lost control of the machine in trying to avoid a bad place in the road. The auto, running wild, crashed into a bridge, turned over several times and was demolished.

Mr. and Mrs. Pollage were badly crushed under the machine. The latter is in a critical condition. The four friends of the Pollages escaped injury.

POSSE HUNTS NEGRO IN WOODS.

Calio Authorities Fear Lynching if Alleged Robber is Caught.

Calio, Ill., Nov. 12.—A posse of citizens from Mounds, eight miles north of here, are in pursuit of an unidentified negro in the surrounding woods as the result of an alleged robbery of a woman there. It is feared a lynching will follow if the negro is caught, and the county authorities are taking measures to prevent such an event.

It is reported here that Mrs. Robert Camp was robbed of her purse as she stepped off a train in that village by a negro, who ran.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS FOR SWEETHEARTS

It is always much easier to choose an acceptable present for a woman than for a man, the needs of the sterner sex being more limited and practical utility being favored rather than mere attractiveness in all those things of which they are prepared to make use with any pretense of pleasure. The man who smokes will be gently pleased if some one presents him this Christmas with one of the new tobacco cases in whose silver shelter fourteen little cartridges of the fragrant and favorite weed are compactly stowed away and accompanied by a

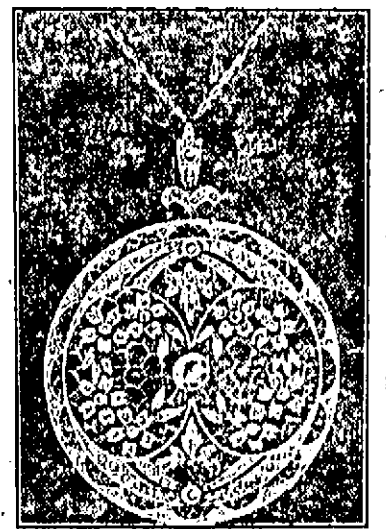

CONVENIENT TOBACCO CASE.

filter which, without any of the usual trouble or unfitness, adjusts the contents of the beloved pipe.

For the automobilist or for the man who travels—indeed, for the smoker everywhere—this little gift is just the thing he'll want.

When Gift Hunting.
For the exquisite, the book lover and the traveler in one, whether man or woman, a gift par excellence would be a beautiful book rack of rare wood with much fine inlaid work, which comes from Florence. Birds and scrolls in intricate designs are deftly shown in woods of varying hues. For the man or woman bridge fiend there are bridge score pads supplied with covers of Chinese embroidery. Belt pins and buckles are welcome offerings.

Paris, "la plaque," she will love you better than ever, for it's the smartest thing we've had in jewelry for many moons.

This novelty is a round medallion about the size of a silver dollar and is of platinum or silver, but never of gold. Pearls, gold or colored stones are incrustated on the surface, and delightful color combinations are secured by enamels.

The little ornament is worn around the neck suspended on a fine gold chain or a narrow velvet ribbon with jeweled slides.

The Smart Vanity Set.
All girls like dangling trinkets, and here's an invention that is both swifter and convenient. It consists of a number of toilet accessories made of solid gold or silver dangling from a bracelet. Hernia—2 to 4 months. The subluxation may be permanently corrected in a few weeks, but further time is required to reduce the enlarged and patulous opening to its normal size, and enable the surrounding tissues to acquire their normal degree of tonicity and resistance.

Insanity—From one day to several months. The length of time depends more upon the severity and duration of the affection than upon its character.

Jaundice—1 to 2 months.

Lumbago—1 day to 2 months. Permanent relief in many cases follows one adjustment less than half minute.

Neuralgia—The same time that is required for lumbago.

Neuritis, acute—The same that is necessary for neuralgia. In the chronic form, 2 weeks to 3 or 4 months.

Palsy—From 1 day in acute cases to several months in those which are chronic.

Peritonitis—2 to 4 days.

Pneumonia—1 to 3 days.

Prolapsus of Stomach or Uterus—From several days to as many months, depending on how much the vertebrae may be abnormal in position, and the time required to secure their normal relation.

Rheumatism—Acute cases, 1 to 4 days; others 1 to 2 months.

Sciatica—The same that is required for rheumatism.

Smallpox—1 to 4 days.

St. Vitus Dance—From 1 week to 2 or 3 months, according to the severity of the case and the age of the patient.

The rapidity with which recovery often occurs as a result of expert Chiropractic adjustments seems to those without experience almost incredible. There are authentic records of many cases of severe, painful and obstinate form after a single adjustment.

The data given above represents the averages made up from reports of Chiropractors in various fields of work.

Asthma—1 day to 2 months.

Appendicitis—When acute, not over 1 to 4 days.

Bronchitis—From 1 day in acute to 2 or 3 months in chronic cases.

Cancer—As many days as are necessary to allow the tumor to be absorbed, or, if open, to heal and form a firm cicatrix. A period of several months is usually required for this work to be accomplished.

Cataract—3 to 6 months. Removing the cause of the growth permits natural absorption to gradually occur with restoration of sight.

Catarth of the nose and throat—From a few weeks to as many months. Often the tissues return to a normal condition in a remarkably short space of time.

Diabetes—From 1 to 3 months. No restriction of diet is necessary. Functional power is soon restored to the kidneys and then their secretions cannot long remain abnormal.

Dropsy—From 1 day to several weeks. Dropsy becomes a thing of the past when the urine is excreted in proper quantities. Adjustments restore normal activity of the kidneys; hence as soon as offending subluxation is permanently adjusted, health is re-established.

Diphtheria—1 to 3 days.

Deafness—From 1 day to 2 months.

Epilepsy—From 1 to 6 months. If adjustments are given immediately after the fit, no dull headaches will be experienced.

Eczema—From a few days to as many months.

Fever—All fevers, including Diphtheria, Typhoid, etc., 1 to 2 adjustments.

Gout—From 2 weeks to 4 months. Sometimes absorption takes place so rapidly as to be noticeable from day to day.

Gall Stones—From a few days to several weeks. Adjustments cause the stones to be disintegrated and dissolved. Hence a few days' time is frequently sufficient to accomplish a permanent cure.

Gout—A few days. Pain is often immediately relieved after one adjustment.

Heart Disease—In any form, a few weeks or months.

Mr. Grady Tells of His Visit to Cross "S" Ranch

Southwestern Texas and Its Wonderful Possibilities. Thousands flocking to the Artesian Belt
Where Things Grow as by Magic—Agricultural Perfection

IN SUNNY SOUTHLAND

Leaving Montgomery in company with Mr. F. S. Hill, superintendent of Mr. J. C. Becker's novelty works, the editor of this journal went to Texas
on a tour of investigation and information. At Williamsport, Mr. Spencer
Thawley, superintendent of the Howley Machine shop at Williamsport boarded the train, and was a travelling companion as far as Pittsburg; he went to Cleveland, O. Arriving at St. Louis, Mo., on Tuesday evening we were met at the Union Station by a representative of the proprietors of Cross S Ranch and escorted to a special train in waiting. The train was made up of observation, dining and sleeping cars, with enough coaches provided

of repairs being made to the incompetent, finally arriving at our destination
Thursday afternoon.

We were taken to the East End
Hotel, a large, roomy building owned by the owners of Cross S and located on either side by other buildings, one of which was the office building. After removing the dust of travel, we were escorted out to see one of the artesian wells on the experimental farm near the hotel, and to view the fields of vegetables, corn, cotton,
sugar cane and many other varieties of vegetation growing on the land. A detailed description of these plants and the manner of farming
the wonderful fertility of the soil,
and the crops raised will be given in future letters to be published in the "Mirror."

Our first view of an artesian well
was of an eight-inch iron pipe projecting from the ground a distance of four or five feet into the air. Near the top was a wheel similar to a brake wheel on a freight car. One of our party who had been on the ranch
before turned the wheel a few times, opening a valve, and immediately a solid column of water shot into the air from the pipe. To one who had never seen it before, it was a slight well worth seeing. The water is warm, and at this place comes from

of the opinion that the artesian well will cause this part of Texas to become a veritable paradise within a very short time. The experimental stage has been passed. Crops are now growing and have been marketed
that make our average yield per acre
in Pennsylvania look like child's play.
Fruit-bearing trees are a business activity, free from droughts, floods and hard luck stories. When your crop needs water you simply make it rain, there is no guess work about it.

All temperate and semi-tropical fruits (figs, oranges, figs, dates and peaches are fortune builders. The soil is there, the climate, the water, and transportation facilities unexcelled.
The climate here is the same as at San Antonio, one of the celebrated health resorts of the world. The sunsets here are celebrated all over the world, and we were treated to a magnificent spectacle on our first evening. Long trailing streamers of varicolored light marked out one half the western sky in different colors shading gently from purple to orange and from orange to blue. The sun went down in a blaze of brilliance. The very last bit of the big red disc flashed, seemed mobile with color and left an afterglow which is found nowhere else out of the tropics.

rigated Texas land is a gold mine.
They welcome good people who are intelligent and not afraid to work.
They say there is no room for the shuggard there at present, and indeed
we found none there.

Messrs. Buckingham and Gross placed one of their autos at our disposal and instructed the chauffeur to take us wherever we wanted to go and get our information first hand.
We visited many people in no way connected with the Cross S Ranch
and their stories, without any exception confirmed everything told us about what at first appeared like fairy tales.
We found Messrs. Buckingham and Gross spoken of by all in the highest possible terms. They are gentlemen whose word is as good as their bond in every particular. They treat all alike and make people in every possible way. They have reserved 10,000 acres of the land for their own use and as a consequence they are interested in having good neighbors on the adjoining properties, and people who are satisfied and contented.

After spending our first night on the famous Cross "S" Ranch, we were taken to Crystal City next morning.
It is nothing short of a phenomenon.
Two years ago there was not even a wagon road there; nothing but

ery, with the exception of heating apparatus. Nature provides this for the people of Crystal City, and furnaces, heating stoves and heat plants are not necessary here. The town was laid out by a competent engineer, and as a consequence the streets are wide and straight. The main street is wider than Pennsylvania Avenue in Washington and the alleys are as wide as Main street here.

The owners of the ranch were liberal with their land, and the inhabitants of Crystal City will reap the benefit of their generosity. We found most things about the same price as in Montgomery, with a few minor exceptions. The business men and merchants are energetic hustlers, being mostly northern people who have moved
since the artesian water was found.
They are raising funds for a $50,000 school building. Texas is said to have the best school laws in the Union.
The state furnishes all land free
for educational purposes.

After spending some time in Crystal City we went to the Boynton farm. This is one of the first irrigated places on the ranch, and consequently should be a good criterion to judge from. Mr. Boynton and his family moved from the plains in the northern part of Texas, which is nearly as far north as Virginia. He never like city folks, and have a large number of Mexicans working for them. They are delighted with the country and the climate, and said

the man who could not make money
on the land in that country could not make any anywhere. They are growing alfalfa, which yields from seven to nine cuttings per year. Their opinion is that nowhere else is average means. Properly directed endeavor has enabled them to make more on five acres of truck land, or Cross S Ranch than they did on a 100-acre farm in Missouri where they moved from. It is not necessary to be an expert to succeed; all that is required is good judgment, and an exercise of good sense. The Bernuda onion is one of the best paying crops and is being made profitable on irrigated land. The seed is sown between the first and fifteenth of September. The soils are then transplanted in December, and the crop is harvested late in March.

Cabbage and lettuce grow luxuriantly through the winter season,
many heads of cabbage weighing products. Heads of cauliflower weighing nine pounds have been grown here. Celery and asparagus are great producers.

ter, then a spring crop and a fall crop
is raised on the land the same year.
They are raising more vegetables than California, better fruit than Florida and more corn on an average per acre than Kansas, and never have we seen such luxuriant growth anywhere. Home life here is certainly a continuous round of pleasure in almost overabundant springtime, when vegetables are green in the gardens,
and fruit is ripe in the orchard through the year. The cost of clearing the land is hardly worth considering. Three Mexicans at $1 per day each will average an acre a day,
and the mosquito trees make excellent fence posts and fire wood.

The Mexicans are a polite, cheerful
people, and make good field hands.
Southwest Texas is fast becoming known as a farming paradise. Among the splendid conditions that make life worth living may be mentioned
an exceptionally healthy climate,
mild winter, pure water and plenty of it, an ample supply of wood, the best roads we have ever seen, adequate railway transportation, facilities, easy access to schools and congenial society. An examination of the land chart in the Cross S Ranch
office shows that more than one thousand farms have already been purchased, and the time is not far dis-

so that all had plenty of room, and each person was as comfortable as in a hotel. We learned that our train was only one of five other sections made up similar to ours, and containing northern people pouring into the artesian belt of Texas.

But a few hours sufficed to become acquainted with these in our coach,
and before the end of the thousand-mile journey of our special, we were on speaking terms with all on the train. We were surprised to find not only other people from our own
state, but people from New York,
Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin,
Michigan, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma, all bound for Cross S Ranch. Several families were aboard, the heads of the family having made previous trips, purchased land, and were now returning with their families to make their home in Texas.

The special left St. Louis via the Iron Mountain Railroad and passed over the Intermediate and Great Northern and Southern Pacific and the Grande and Crystal City R. R. We passed through Little Rock, Ark., Texarkana, Austin and San Antonio,
Tex., arriving at Uvalde, the junction of the Southern Pacific and the U. & C. R. R., at ten o'clock on Thursday morning. Here we were detained about three hours on account

a depth of 800 feet. The water is soft and pure; everybody drinks it,
and has been drinking it, there being no alkali or other matter in it to injure man, beast or vegetation.

We learned there are already three hundred flowing wells within ten miles of this ranch. They range from 500 to 1,000 feet in depth, and flow
from 100 to 1,000 gallons per minute, unhindered by the varying seasons. At San Antonio similar wells have been supplying the city of 150, 000 people with water for the past 25 years, without injury to soil or life, driven by an insistent natural pressure which causes it to flow abundantly. Authorities from the state department of Texas, after an exhaustive study of these wells, found they were caused by water having its source in the Rocky Mountains,
and flowing into the Gulf of Mexico,
as the mountains extend entirely
across the continent, it is their opinion that the flow will always continue.
The water being warm is of much benefit to winter crops; they grow faster
when watered with artesian water than when irrigated from running streams. It would be difficult to estimate the true value of these wells.
When completed an artesian well works without cost. Once the well is capped, the expense stops. We are

The clear dry air is largely accountable for the beauty of a southwest Texas sunset. Words are inadequate to describe the charm and grandeur
which must be seen to be appreciated.

Two railroads already enter the ranch, and a third is in prospect.
The season is six weeks earlier and 1,000 miles nearer the great markets than California. One pleasing feature of our trip is the fact that we found things exactly as represented to us before leaving home, and in many cases we found many statements very conservative, many good features not being mentioned. We can readily understand why the owners of the ranch prefer to have people make a personal investigation before purchasing land. Practical farmers in our party from the rich agricultural states commended it was the finest body of rich land they ever saw. Where irrigation has been completed during the last two years the most luxuriant growths of gardens and orchards are to be seen. We talked with the men who raised the crops. They are contented and happy, and are making money; they say they have no snow trouble and no coal to buy. They enjoy good health, are independent in every sense of the word, have full and plenty, and a few acres of it

brush, mesquite and cattle. Now it is a bustling town containing as many people as Montgomery. Already they have about fifteen stores, grocery, clothing, hardware, drug store, two newspapers, a bank, a telephone exchange, electric lights,
artificial ice plant, telegraph office,
water works, lumber yard, cotton gin, churches, and the office and round house of the Crystal City and Uvalde Railroad. It is about the center of the ranch and is reached by the best roads it has ever been over pleasure to ride over from every portion of the ranch. Going in over the ranch roads on which there had been no grading, as none was necessary,
the speedometer on the automobile indicated a speed of fifty miles an hour at times.

An artesian well supplies the people
with water; it flows about two million gallons per day. We were told by a barber who had a shop near the well that when they turned the water into a big tank in the rear of the well the pressure was so great it lifted the roof of the tank. The roof was about twenty feet from the ground. Being in the center of the artesian belt, its future seemed assured. The buildings are substantial frame structures; the dwellings finished in about the same modern styles as those in Montgom-

had any experience with irrigated land before moving to Cross S. He has harvested two crops, most of which were experimental, and the two crops averaged him $850 per acre.
On some acres his profits were over $1,000, but on others the yield was not so great. This was not because the land was any better one place than another, but because he did not know what the ground would produce in the greatest abundance until he experimented with it, and he planted figs, alfalfa and other crops which will not mature for some time.

He has a beautiful home surrounded by tropical plants, orange trees, bananas, trees, lemons, figs, etc. He had been farming in north Texas, but he said the farmer he farmed it seemed the poorer he got. He said the world looked different to him now. When he planted his seed his crop was assured.
There was no uncertainty about it and the yield was more than double for the same amount of labor he expended where he came from.

At the Bird farm adjoining we found practically the same condition.
The birds have gone in for stock raising also and have a large number of young colts, mules, calves, goats, horses, cows, etc. They have prospered wonderfully, own a handsome automobile in which they ride

Mr. Boynton's last crop of sugar cane matured seven feet for a field average. It made over 700 gallons of syrup per acre, and sold for fifty cents per gallon, wholesale. Cotton makes a bale to the acre, while by dry farming half a bale is considered good. Broom corn, cow peas, sugar beets, peanuts, cow pea nuts, cow peas, clover, alfalfa, pumpkins, watermelons, Kaffir corn, geranium millet
and rape produces beyond belief.

Fruit, such as dates, figs, oranges, peaches, peaches, pears, apricots and dates yield in abundance. "Success"
the name of the river on which the ranch is located, is Spanish for peach.
This is the river about which the dispute arose years ago with Mexico. Mexico insisted that this was the river intended for the boundary between Mexico and the United States
while the United States contended it was the Rio Grande. It was finally decided in favor of the United States.

Perseverance and peaches grow wild like chestnuts here. Bee culture is a most profitable business. Many apharies are on the ranch, and Uvalde,
just north of the ranch, is the greatest
honey centre in that part of the state,
many carloads being shipped out monthly. The great advantage of the irrigated land in this section is that profitable crops are raised in the winter, when not a foot of the land will be for sale.

The one great factor that impressed us as the wonderful climatic. The air is fine, full of ozone and bracing. A delightful breeze is always blowing in from the Gulf, and it is just far enough away to have all the dampness taken out before it reaches Cross S. Although but a few days on the ranch, we could realize the bracing effects of the dry air. The average annual temperature is about sixty-eight. There is only one advice to be given: Go and see it. Seeing is believing. With farms that are fertile, no wood or water problem to contend with, a wide range of crops possible, a climate unsurpassed artesian resources and an era of rapid development, what more could one ask?

It costs but half as much to live here, heavy clothing and woollens are unnecessary. The title of travel has certainly turned Texasward. People are seeking new and better homes;
they are becoming tired of tedious annual migration, unproductive soil, where it is necessary to put back on the land in fertilizers about as much as they get off. The proposition appealed to us strongly that if there is a place on earth where health, prosperity and happiness may be had, it is here.

Are You Going to Plug Along in Moderate Circumstances All Your Life?

or are you going to grasp this wonderful opportunity. Remember that the best classes of thrifty German, American, Scandinavian farmers are going here by the hundreds. Remember that bankers, business men, professional men and mechanics are buying this land. And remember that this is no mail order proposition. We ask you to go to the "Cross 'S' Ranch" and see for yourself and that we pay the railroad fare. This land is but 5 hours' ride from the largest city in Texas, San Antonio, the most beautiful city in the country, and the coming winter playground of America.

Charming Hair

Every Woman Can Have It By Using Parisian Sage, Guaranteed By The People's Drug Co.

There is a reason for the phenomenal sale of Parisian Sage in the United States since it was first introduced into America, and the sales this year are breaking all records.

And the reason is plain to all: Parisian Sage does just what it is advertised to do.

Ask The People's Drug Company about it. They will tell you that they rigidly guarantee it to cure dandruff, stop falling hair or itching scalp in two weeks, or money back.

There is no reason whatever why stop falling hair or itching scalp in two weeks, or money back.

But one thing that has made Parisian Sage so famous is its peculiar power to turn the harsh, unattractive hair that many women possess into luxuriant and radiant hair in a short time.

Women of refinement the country over are using it and it never disappoints.

Sold by leading druggists everywhere and in Janesville by The People's Drug Company for 50 cents a large bottle. The girl with Auburn hair is on every package; multi orders filled, charges prepaid, by the American makers, Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

LETTERS FROM A SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS WOMAN TO HER NIECE, NO. VIII.

DEAR NIECE JOAN: I have been wondering for the past month just when that letter would come.

So you happened to go down in the elevator together and him to talking, and he said you had better come along to lunch with him and finish the subject, and you made up a little fib about having an errand to do up town, and declined.

And now you are wondering if you were silly and prudish. No, little girl, you were just as wise and fine and good-commensurable as I knew my little Joan would be when that phase of a business woman's life presented itself to her.

I suspect St. Peter chuckled when he heard that fib, and made haste to jot it down on the credit side of the ledger right under your staying at home last summer so your mother could take that trip.

Dear child, it isn't just from doing a thing like that once that harm comes. It's from doing it the second and third and fourth time. And the very best way I know to make sure that you won't do a thing the second and third and fourth times is not to do it the first time.

The going to lunch once in itself wouldn't necessarily be wrong at all. It would be foolish, however, because it might give evil-minded people a chance to suspect harsh things. But it would only be wrong if it became a link in a chain of intimacy and mutual necessity for each other's company that bound you two together.

Can't anyone who is married have any friends of the opposite sex, you say? Yes, but not necessary friends. The moment anyone of the opposite sex whom you cannot marry becomes necessary for your happiness you are headed straight for a terrible Seylla and Charybdis, with unhappiness on one side and disgrace on the other.

Of course, you haven't the faintest idea there would ever be a chain of necessity between you and this man.

I haven't either. I have too much faith in your common sense. But kindly listen to this extract from one of your letters.

"There is such an interesting man in the department next to ours. He does not have to dictate to me very often but he is very fond of music and reads the same books that I do and occasionally he comes in to talk things over. He is really much superior to any man I ever met at a dance."

And again: "Mr. R., the man I spoke of before, brought me in the last Century, as there was a very interesting article he wanted me to read."

My dear, if you had told me that this man was unbecomingly and unbecomingly fond of music and reads the same books that I do and occasionally he comes in to talk things over. He is really much superior to any man I ever met at a dance."

The KITCHEN CABINET

Well buttered this and given heat—Success will be complete.

Cake Making.

A fine cake is the flower of cookery. It requires more care and judgment than many other branches of cookery.

A really good cake is not a common sight, for we need to raise our standards as to perfection along many lines of cookery.

A cake to be in the blue ribbon class should be fine grained, light and feathery white and good flavored.

This is speaking for the regular butter cakes which are most common as loaf and layer. Sponge and angel cakes should be fine of texture and tender. A fruit cake, rich without being soggy.

In filling a cake pan it is well to remember that the center of the cake is the part which will usually be the highest, so spread the batter as much to the sides as possible, leaving a depression in the center, then the cake, when baked, will be level.

The making of cake requires skill and care, with practice. Careful measuring is no small part of successful cake making.

The mixing and baking are equally important. Many a well made cake has been spoiled in the baking.

German cakes excel in the making of tortes, the cake par excellence. They are rich in eggs and nuts and crumbs of cake or bread take the place of flour. The following is a delicious one that may be made if the directions are carefully followed:

Walnut Torte.

Beat the whites of six eggs with one cupful of sugar and a fourth of a cup of walnuts, graded, and six graded lady fingers, two tablespoonfuls of baking powder. Add the juice and rind of half a lemon, cut and fold in the whites of the eggs and bake in layers in a moderate oven.

Filling.

Beat one egg yolk, add two tablespoonfuls of sugar, three-fourths of a cup of milk. Cook until the mixture coats the spoon then add three-fourths of a pound of walnuts graded and a little vanilla. Put between the layers and on top, or the top may be iced.

Keep a pile of pumice stone to remove stains from the hands.

EATING AT BEDTIME.

A heavy meal should not be eaten before retiring, for while slight activity of the digestive organs is favorable to sleep, sound sleep is impossible when the nervous system is much disturbed by the irritation of a very indigestible meal. The best supper food is prunes, which should be well washed several times and soaked for 12 hours. No cooking is needed if they are fresh. Dates and figs are also good for supper, but they are difficult to get—fresh. Prunes have, also, a very beneficial effect on elimination. A glass of buttermilk at bedtime is a good antidote to auto-intoxication and favors sleep if much water has not been drunk within two hours preceding.

She Chewed Gum.
A girl fifteen years old, living in Milwaukee, fell down on the street in a fit a few weeks ago, and although she had the best of medical attendance she died after three or four days. The doctors laid all to chewing too much gum. She had a quid in her mouth from morning till night, and on going to bed she swallowed it. There are some things as bad as being bitten by a mad cat.

Seen and Heard on Long Island.
A teacher tells me that at a Brooklyn school, not long since, the class in geography was asked: "What are some of the natural peculiarities of Long Island?" The pupils tried to think, and after a while a boy raised his hand. "I know," said he. "Well, what are they?" asked the teacher. "Why," said the boy, with a triumphant look, "on the south side you can see the sea, and on the north side you hear the sound."—Spate Moments.

WEE DOGS GUARD BANK VAULT

Chihuahua Breed is Smallest Race of Canine Family in World—Are Keenly Intelligent.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Two toy dogs, weighing about a pound apiece, to guard the gold stored in safety deposit vaults. It sounds freakish but there is some good hard sense at the bottom.

G. W. Snyder, watchman of the safety deposit boxes at the Security Savings bank, is the proud possessor of a pair of genuine Chihuahua pups, which he declares shall share his vigil over the boarded securities under his charge.

The true Chihuahua breed is the smallest race of dogs in the world. They are also the most highly strung, sensitive and valiant of their kind. Their sense of sound, sight and smell is developed to a marvelous degree, and they have a bark which would rise supreme above the noise of a boiler shop.

A strange step note one of the little hair-trigger animals into a frenzy of ear-splitting rage, and yet they are so keenly intelligent that they can distinguish between friend and foe almost at first sight, sound or whiff. Long before the duller senses of man can detect a foreign presence, these little marvels of nerve force will have "sized up" the intruder, and if not satisfied that all is well their staccato warning will wake the echoes.

Watchman Snyder's pair are three months old, male and a female, and the latter weighs less than a pound. They are so tiny they can easily be snatched in an ordinary mug and not be crowded. Their owner declares when they are a few months older they will be a most efficient aid to him in his duties as guardian of the bank's treasure.

Drinkin's Logic.

"Men drink," said a temperance lecturer, "because they are happy, because they are sad, because they are too warm, because they are too cold. Is there any logic in that?"

"When I see men drinking I think of a little boy at the seashore.

"This little boy, at play with his bucket and shovel in the sand, suddenly ran to the edge of an advancing wave and, scooping up a handful of salt water and foam, drank it greedily.

"Oh, don't drink that," said his nurse. "It will make you thirsty."

"What if it does?" said he. "There's plenty more."

Making It Last.

A young man was lately leaving his aunt's house after a visit when, finding it was beginning to rain, he caught up an umbrella that was snugly placed in a corner and was proceeding to open it when the old lady, who for the first time observed his movements, sprang toward him, exclaiming: "No, no; that you never shall! I've had that umbrella twenty-three years, and it has never been wet yet, and I am sure it isn't to be wetted now!"—London Express.

An Annoying Error.

That was a very annoying typographical error that crept into the paper the other day, telling how a prominent society man had been held up by highwaymen and "robbed of his watch and other valuables." Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hansen Entertained With A Pleasant Social Gathering—Other Brief News.

[Special to this Gazette.]

Evansville, Nov. 11.—There was a pleasant social gathering at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hansen last evening, one unique feature of which was that the guests were all in costume, many of them being fantastic and ridiculous. Mrs. Hansen acted the part of an old lady and wore a dress which had belonged to her great grandmother. Mrs. G. W. Loyd represented Aunt Dinah from the South, and took the character exceedingly well, both as to costume and in the use of the negro dialect. In A. Langumak, who had just returned from a business trip to Chicago, decided he would show the company just how some of the swell young ladies of the Windy city appeared, and did the act so admirably that his own wife failed to recognize him. Mrs. Hansen served an oyster supper, covers being laid for sixteen. The party was given in honor of Mr. Hansen's birthday and was a very enjoyable occasion.

APPOINTMENTS TO BE MADE SOON

Governor McGovern Has Several Important Places to Fill—To Be Confirmed by Senate.

Francis L. McGovern, the republican governor elect, will have several important offices to fill soon after he assumes the governor's chair, in addition to the members of his immediate official family. By an oversight in passing a new act providing for a state board of control after the supreme court held the appointment of a new board necessary because of the need requiring one of the members to be a woman, the terms of all members of that board expire at the same time. Gov. Davidson appointed the members now constituting the board after the adjournment of the legislature in 1909, hence the new governor will have to reappoint or send in new names. "The old inspector, E. L. Tracy, and the commissioner of banking, M. G. Bergh, are other officials who were appointed during the recess and their names will have to be sent to the new senate if they are to hold office under Gov. McGovern. T. J. Cunningham reappointed civil service commissioner by Gov. Davidson an unexpired term, is another official who will have to be reappointed by the new governor and confirmed if he is to continue in office. In addition to these appointments, which ordinarily would not come before the new governor, Gov. McGovern will have the usual number of appointments to make on state boards to fill vacancies caused by the expiration of stated terms of office, as follows: To succeed Henry D. Smith and John A. Fred, commissioners of fisheries, April 1, 1911; John L. Herbst, Seventh congressional district; Ed. Nordman, Tenth, and L. S. Scott, Eleventh, members of the state board of agriculture, term expiring Jan. 1, 1911; Otto Gafstrom, member of the civil service commission, June 21, 1911; Dr. W. E. White, president of the state board of health, first Monday in February, 1911; Dr. G. C. Marlow, member state board of dental examiners, May 2, 1911; Dr. W. T. Seares, president, and A. H. Bailey, E. F. Bennett and A. P. Andrus, members of the state board of medical examiners, July 1, 1911; H. B. Allen, member of the state board of pharmacy; C. L. Wohltz, member of the state barbers' board, July 1, 1911, as well as places on the state park board, the mining school board, the board of university regents and the board of normal school regents, where the terms of Mrs. Youmans and C. H. Crowhart will expire Feb. 1, 1911, while it is possible that Senator Thomas Morris will resign because of his election as lieutenant governor.

The Longfellow House.

The historic Longfellow house in Portland has closed its doors for this season. The number of visitors for the past season far exceeds that of last year, and the same thing remains true of this year as of former years, there has been no injury to the house, not a thing has been taken and one is surprised when told that in the ten years in which it has been open to the public there has been no damage done to any part of the house and furnishings.—Kennebec Journal.

PUNISHED SHOOTING AT THE CHARIVARI

Circuit Court Jury Returned Verdict Awarding George Palmer of Milwaukee $225 Damages last evening.

At half past seven o'clock last evening the jury trying the action of George Palmer vs. Carroll L. Smith, arising out of a charivari in the town of Milton last June, returned a verdict for the plaintiff, awarding him $175 compensatory and $50 punitive damages. The compensatory damages are designed to reimburse Palmer for the outlay for medical attention after he was wounded in one leg by a rifle bullet, and the $50 is the measure of punishment for the deed. Smith and Miss Evelyn Whitte were married June 16, last, and the injury was done during a noisy and unwelcome demonstration at their home a few evenings thereafter. Smith claimed that he saw two men sneaking about his carriage shed at midnight and fired a rifle several times through a window to frighten them away. The attorneys were J. J. Cunningham of Janesville for the plaintiff and Charles Pierce for the defendant. They completed their arguments yesterday afternoon and Judge Grimm charged the jury at half past three o'clock.

COMMON SENSE CURE FOR RHEUMATISM.

Rheumatism has for ages been a puzzle to the doctors. Some claim it to be an infection, a germ disease. Others claim that the cause is uric acid, a kidney disease. It is said that uric acid is carried by the blood into the small apertures of the joints and skin where it crystallizes and causes intense pain with every motion of the body by cutting into the flesh and nerves. Whatever the cause, the best relief known is an Alkaline Elixir of the Sallaylates. The chemical nature of the Sallaylates is to form soluble compounds with the urates. In this way these crystals are dissolved, taken up by the blood and taken out of the body by the kidneys.

This rheumatic elixir is taken in teaspoonful doses in hot water before meals. The cure is often in a day or two, yet the remedy should be taken for some time to thoroughly neutralize the blood and prevent a recurrence of the trouble. The eliminations, as the doctors would say, that is the kidneys and the bowels, should be kept active. Rheumatic Elixir is compounded by Mr. Fleming, our Graduate Pharmacist and Chemist, who would be pleased to give you any other information you wish. Sold at 50c. Badger Drug Co., Milwaukee and River Sts., the drug store that makes a specialty of drugs.

Prehistoric Hairpins.

Eyes probably caught up her tresses when engaged in housekeeping with long thorns, easily obtainable from the bushes and trees in her front yard. Thorillike pins carved from boxwood, ivory and horn have been found in excavations dating back to the time of the Caesars; and also queer, clumsy combs made of the same materials. In the days of the Caesars, Roman maids wore their hair in exceedingly simple fashion, but styles for matrons exceeded in ornateness anything seen in our day. The Roman lady about the house wore her hair caught up under a reticulum or heavy net of colored cords; but for great occasions her locks were dressed by a cinerarius, or handler of the curling irons, and not only wore bangs, braids and tails in high favor, but false hair was much used, captive German maids, being deputed of their flaxen braids for the enhancement of Roman charms.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

"Nor what your father thinks me, nor what anybody else in this town thinks me. I'm not a regular Christian—it's all a bluff. I didn't know anything about a church till I came here. I smoke, and I drink, and I swear, and I gamble, and I only cut them all out in order to trick you into caring for me!"

"Oh, Nat, I don't believe it!"

"Alas, Josie, I'm protested violently, it's true, only too true!"

"But you did it to win my love, Nat!"

"Yes—oh. He saw suddenly that he had made a fatal mistake."

"Then, Nat, I will be your wife in spite of all!"

"He found himself suddenly caught about the neck by the girl's arms. His head was drawn down until her cheek caressed his and he felt her lips warm upon his own."

"Josie, I'm grieved."

"Nat, my darling!"

"With a supreme effort he pulled himself together and embraced the girl. 'Josie,' he said earnestly, 'I'm going to try to be a good husband to you. And that,' he concluded, sotto voce, 'wasn't in the agreement.'"

"She held him to her passionately. 'Dearest, I'm so glad!'"

"It makes me very happy to know you are, Josie," he murmured miserably, and to himself while she still trembled in his embrace: "What a cur!"

FOUND HIMSELF CAUGHT BY THE GIRL'S ARMS

you are! But I won't renege now. I'll play my hand out on the square with her."

Upon this tableau there came a sudden intrusion. The back door opened, and Graham came in, Kellogg at his heels. It was the voice of the latter that told the two they were discovered, a hearty "Hello! What's this?" that rang in Nat's ears like the tramp of doom.

"I'm a dog, all right," said Nat glumly.

"But we mustn't disturb these young people, Mr. Kellogg," Graham broke in nervously. "They'll—they'll have a lot to say to one another, I'm sure, so we'll just run along. I'm taking Mr. Kellogg up to the house. Nat, you'll follow us as soon as you can, won't you?"

"Yes—sure."

"I've got some news for you, too, that'll make you happy."

"Never mind about that; I'll keep till supper, Mr. Graham," Kellogg laughed, taking the old man's arm. "Goodbye, both of you—goodbye for a little while."

"Goodbye."

"Wasn't that terrible?" Josie turned back to Nat when they were alone.

"I think it was real mean of Mr. Graham to turn on all the lights that way," she whispered. "Somebody else might've seen."

"Yes," agreed the young man, half distracted. "But of course I don't turn them off again."

"Never mind. We can wait," Josie blushed. "I'll just sit here and wait. We can talk till Tracy comes, and then you can walk home with me."

"Yes, that'll be nice," he agreed, but without absolute ecstasy.

Fortunately for him, in his temper at that moment, Pete Willing reeled into the shop two-thirds drunk, with his face smeared with blood from a cut on his forehead.

"Scuse me," he muttered huskily. "Kin I see you a minute, doc?"

"He reeled and almost fell—would have fallen had not Duncan caught his arm and guided him to a chair. 'Grant Scott, Peter?' he cried. 'What's happened to you?'"

"My wife," Pete explained thickly.

"CHAPTER XXX.

"PETER! I'd better go," Josie, fluttering with alarm and a little pale, went quickly to the door.

Duncan followed her a pace or two. "I can't leave just now," he stammered. "I don't mind one bit. I don't want to be in the way. I'll telephone from home. Good night, dearest!" On tip-toes he drew his face down to hers and kissed him. "I'm so happy."

Half dazed, Nat stared after her until her lightly moving figure merged with the shadows beneath the trees and was lost. Then, with a sigh, he turned back to Pete.

The sheriff had undoubtedly suffered at the hands of that militant person, Mrs. Willing. "Grant Scott!" Duncan exclaimed as he examined the two inch gash in his head. "That's a bird, Pete."

"My wife done it," Willing muttered huskily. "She threw side 'r th' house at me, I think."

"Wife, oh?" The coincidence smote Duncan with redoubled force. He shivered. "Well, she certainly gave it to you good." He went behind the counter to prepare a dressing for the wound, which, if wide, was neither deep nor serious and gave him little concern for Pete.

Enoch, Man Who Walked With God

By REV. C. A. S. DWIGHT, D. D.

Text.—And Enoch walked with God; and he was not; for God took him.—Gen. 5:24.

God has many distinguished servants whose dignity is all derived from their heavenly Master. The names and histories of many of these, as portrayed in the Scriptures, are coupled with tell-tale epithets or brief characterizations, which have now become familiar as household words, that are significant of the peculiar aptitudes and achievements of the men to whom they are applied. Of one man in the Bible a phrase is used, (omitted elsewhere to one other, Noah) which is strangely suggestive and wonderfully inspiring—for it is said of Enoch that he "walked with God." All men, good and bad, walk in the sight of God, and all good men may be said to walk before or in the presence of God—guided by his eye, shone upon by his glory, and surrounded by tokens of his love—but of that primal, pre-eminent man of an early rude age it is declared that he "walked with God," which must mean something very illustrious, and denote a dignity almost, if not quite, unexampled in the whole course of human history.

The character of Enoch, as viewed through the lengthened vistas of the varying ages, seems to shine with a pure white light almost, if not quite, unearthly. Its gleam was never lightened on man-made altars, the sheen is not dimmed by earth-born mists or garish glare or historic contrivances. We cannot know just what were the psychologic qualities of this holy, happy man, but we may be sure of one thing, that his character was singularly pure, far above that of his fellows, or the unexampled honor of "walking with God" and of being translated without hint or hurt of death would never have been given to him. "The ye holy, for I am holy," must have been fulfilled in marvelous degree in Enoch's case. He was a saint, as were others of his contemporaries, but somehow, in close contact with the fires of the Divine holiness, the dress of his own humanity was burned away, so that even before he was caught away to paradise, he became detached from earth and filled with the very spirit of heaven.

Enoch walked with God it appears, as a prophet. God may have revealed to him in quiet, tender converse many wonderful secrets of his plans. What did Enoch see in prophecy? Who knows but that in those ecstatic 300 years there may have passed before his vision, revealed by the direct will and wish of Jehovah, the outlines of redemption—the coming history of the ages, exhibited as it were, in an elongated panorama, all illustrating the wonders of grace and centering about the cross, whose distant gleam Enoch's quickened eyes may have clearly seen? Paul, in a later age, was taken up into the third heaven—why may Enoch not have been granted the vision of a redeemed earth? We cannot say that it was so—but we may wonder whether such dreams and visions did not come to that holy and unique man.

We are told, at any rate, in the epistle of Jude, of a wonderful vision which Enoch had of the consummation of human history, when the Lord will come with ten thousand of his angels to visit a dire punishment on ungodly men—a message which seems to have been a quotation from or an adaptation of a prophecy in the Book of Enoch, which is a collection of apocalyptic stories regarding many matters in nature and in life which the church has declined to introduce into the canon, and does not receive as veritable Scripture. The general truth holds good at all events that the nearer one walks with God and the more transparent is the moral nature of any believer the broader and grander is the vision which such a one enjoys of eternal things—for in the highest ranges of Christian experience being is seeing.

There is need today for the transparent, guileless, reverent, meditative Enoch-like type of character—a frame or fashion of moral being which may seem, indeed, quite foreign to the "zeitgeist" or prevailing spirit of the times. Yet in a rushing age, more, if anything, than in any other, we need the close converse with their Maker to keep them poised amid social agitations steadily against the assaults of temptation, and clear-eyed amid the whirl and swirl of numberless worldly distractions. It should not be thought, because Enoch lived in a simple age, that, therefore, he enjoyed exceptional opportunities for being religious, while in this characteristically worldly day it is quite out of the question to maintain a spiritual frame. The fact is that Enoch lived in an age that was rude, riotous and coarse, when vice was rampant, when the sanctions of society itself were largely lacking, when there were no Bibles, churches, endeavor societies, religious clubs or religious books or weeklies, and, therefore, it was all the more to his praise that, under conditions even more unfriendly, perhaps, to righteousness than those that obtain today, he walked with God and comforted himself as he felt a saint of the Most High.

Salvation means more than simply a kind of ticket to heaven.—Rev. Carter H. Jones, Baptist, Louisville.

"Buying a Wind." Some of the older sailors believe that it is possible to "buy a wind," as they call it, and by this is meant getting the favor of certain persons who have control over the elements. There are not many sailors now alive who put much faith in this, although I have heard of a commodore in the British navy who not over 20 years ago said that he knew where he could buy a wind if he needed one. This belief is fast dying out among young men.—Exchange.

The Proof is in Janesville Almost at Your Door.

The public statement of a Janesville citizen is in itself strong proof for Janesville people, but confirmation strengthens the evidence.

Here is a Janesville citizen who testified years ago that Doan's Kidney Pills relieved sick kidneys and now states the cure was permanent. Can any sufferer from kidney ills ask better proof? You can investigate. The case is right at home.

Mrs. Joseph Gower, 302 Eastern Ave., Janesville, Wis., says: "The benefit I received from Doan's Kidney Pills when I used them some years ago has been permanent. I willingly confirm my former endorsement of this remedy. I was afflicted with kidney complaint for several weeks and was feeling miserable in every way when a friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I got a supply at The People's Drug Company and the contents of three boxes sufficed to rid me of my trouble. I never fail to advise a trial of Doan's Kidney Pills whenever I hear anyone complaining of weak kidneys."

Going, Going, Gone!

A New York auctioneer was begging the crowd for a bid. He pleaded for ten minutes and then in desperation cried:

"For the Lord's sake, will no one give me a bid?"

A mild spoken gentleman replied:

"Why, yes, old man, I'll try to help you out. I bid you good night."

And the kindly disposed one departed, leaving the auctioneer to the tender mercies of a laughing crowd.—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

Fresh Air in Winter

In winter, it is hard to get fresh air in certain rooms. Some rooms in a house are usually colder than others, and if you open the windows it is hard again to heat the room properly.

If you keep the windows closed you don't get fresh air; if you keep them open you cannot quickly reheat the room. The

Perfection Smokeless Oil Heater

Absolutely smokeless and odorless

solves the difficulty. You can leave the windows in a room open all day in winter, and when you close them apply a match to a Perfection Oil Heater and heat the room to any temperature you desire in a few minutes.

The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in Japan or nickel. It burns for nine hours. It has a cool handle and a damper top. It has an automatic locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that the wick can be quickly cleaned. An indicator always shows amount of oil in the font.

The filler-cap does not need to be screwed down. It is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and consequently, it can always be easily unscrewed in an instant for reworking. The Perfection Oil Heater is strong, durable, well made, built for service, yet light and ornamental.

THIS SEASON RESOLVE TO BUY

GOOD COAL ONLY

Everybody has experienced trouble with coal. You probably do not know why some coal is good and some is not so good, but you realize that there is a difference in coal. It is our business to KNOW Coal. We do. We tell you that a live, bright, clean coal is best, because it will burn to a fine ash. Every bit of it. Coal that is dull, dusty, lifeless looking, contains siftings, dirt, slate and dross matter. What good coal there is in it cannot burn freely because it is choked by the dead matter. This results in clinkers, uneven fires and partly burned coal.

SCRANTON COAL IS PURE COAL

It's live coal, bright, clean, and it burns freely and evenly. This season resolve to try a ton of it. If it suits you better than all other coal we will be assured of your continued patronage. It costs no more than other coal. Phone us now so that we may have plenty of time to deliver it. Full weight every time.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Janesville Gazette, Nov. 12, 1870.—Jottings.—Hon. David Atwood of the Madison Journal visited our annulet yesterday afternoon.

The farmers of Rock county have gone into the poultry business more extensively than usual this season.

The Rev. T. H. Dillworth of Milwaukee will deliver a lecture on "Papal Infallibility," at St. Patrick's church next Monday evening.

Janesville imports potatoes from the northern and western portions of the state, and from Michigan, paying from eighty-five to one dollar per bushel.

A train of twenty-five cars of choice maple wood arrived today from Jefferson, over the Chicago and North-Western railway for the use of employees. Two more trains will follow next week.

Moara, J. G. Allen and Son advertise a reduction in the price of groceries, which will be read by heads of families with pleasurable emotions. Their place of business is No. 63 West Milwaukee street.

Rev. Dr. Goodspeed of Chicago will preach at the Baptist church tomorrow. His co-laborers in the cause of religion will be pleased to avail themselves of this opportunity for listening to their former pastor.

The fire alarm last night was caused by the burning of a smoke house belonging to George Raun near the jail. The building containing several hams was destroyed, but no other damage was done. A slight wind would have made a disastrous fire as there are numerous wooden buildings in close proximity.

Rev. Dr. Lodge left this city last Wednesday for his new home in Leavenworth.

Yesterday and today have brought a continuation of our lovely Indian summer weather.

Connors' Vaudeville Theatre. With all the agility of the proverbial, the Klunk Brothers, appearing at Connors' new vaudeville theatre, perform a number of acrobatic feats that are truly wonderful. They go all sorts of things and flip flops with the same grace and apparently the same one as an average person displays in walking. And when they are done you would like to see them do it over again, as you begin to appreciate the skill which is required and the careful training that was necessary to reach that stage of perfection. One particularly difficult stunt, which is done so cleverly as to seem to require no effort at all is a jump which one of the acrobats makes. Grasping his brother by the hands, the only assistance he receives in doing it being in the light pull exerted by his brother, he springs lightly over his brother's shoulder. It looks easy on the stage, but don't attempt it for there's more to it than appears to be.

Misunderstood.

Acting Barnes, tragedian, solemnly strutted into the bar of the night stand hotel. "Put a pint of wine on the ice, my friend," he said to the man behind the counter. "Not if I'm in my right mind I won't," chuckled the other, who happened to be the proprietor; "cash down is the rule in the here tavern, 'cash'."

NEW TYPES OF RIVER BOATS

Steady, Successful Navigation is Now Assured--Introduce New German Oil Engine.

St. Louis.—It is stated that a company actively interested in the navigation of the Missouri river between St. Louis and Kansas City will not only introduce propellers on a vessel now in preparation, but also employ the oil engine that, invented in Germany, has made rapid progress in that country and is to be employed on a liner of the first class. A survey of navigation as now conducted impresses the fact that the material improvements in the size, speed and general attractiveness of vessels have been on the ocean and lakes, says the Globe-Democrat. In no case have permanent deep channels failed to lead to the enlargement of the boats used and to add to the comfort of the passage. At the same time safety has been promoted, and there are few places where a sense of security is better justified than on an ocean liner with its steel hull in compartments and its wireless instruments communicating with other ships within a range of hundreds of miles. Since lake channels were deepened, by government appropriations, from six feet to more than twenty, the type of vessels has been greatly enlarged, the speed increased and the facilities for loading and unloading bettered much more than tenfold.

As yet little has been done for a permanent deep channel in the Missouri, but the appropriation for the work in the latest rivers and harbors bill is encouraging and insures a beginning on the right scale. River boats of a new pattern will come in when a channel is assured, as has been the case on the Rhine and numerous other rivers of Europe. Two steamboats recently lost in the Mississippi river by striking the bank or other obstruction, would not have gone to the bottom if provided with steel compartment hulls. Existing river boats have been built on the old models, and the uncertainty in the depth of channels has been a barrier to a general spirit of improvement. Steel construction, propellers, turbines and a speed of over twenty miles an hour have become an old story on ocean and lakes. Little that is new has been tested on the rivers. But in the light of what has been accomplished in Europe, the steady, successful navigation of rivers is not a problem at all, but an assured thing. A demonstration of improved navigation on the so-called intractable Missouri would be a fine start for new river conditions.

School Kitchens for Pittsburg.

Kitchens in public schools where the children may be provided with nourishing lunches is the aim of the Woman's club of Pittsburg. An effort will be made to establish them this winter. The matter was brought before the club last season by a number of women who declared that many of the pupils are too poorly fed to do good work, and since that time the new president, Mrs. Arthur Dorgayne, has been investigating the subject. Such school kitchens are conducted in many European cities.

Adam's Slater. The palm tree has always been venerated wherever it grows. In some places it is worshipped. "Honor the palm tree," says a Mohammedan writer, "for she is your father's aunt, for this tree was formed of the remainder of the clay from which Adam was created."—From Bonfort's Wine and Spirit Circular.

Comfort and a Pious Soul. Susan's only comfort under the circumstances was to reflect that Sir Guy was certainly going, at no distant date, to a place where his rank would not be a hindrance to his being compared to the period for which he would be deemed to suffer torment.—From James Payne's "Gwendolyn's Harbinger."
